

ROUNABOUT IN GEORGIA.

Gainesville while a city park.
Hawkinsville is to have an ice house.
Merriweather country frogs kill chickens.
Augusta is making arrangements for a regatta on Lake Oconee.
Home thieves are unpopular in Gordon county.

Another negro woman attempted to commit suicide in Columbus the other day.
The Crawfordville Democrat is opposed to Tilden, but Editor Sullivan will celebrate the 4th of July.

Those who oppose the dog laws themselves up in the back yard and think about it if the canines indeed injure our south Georgia in three counties.

A huge turpentine distillery near Eastman, was recently erected. It is erected centrally over the corner Marion, Schley, and Taylor counties.

Editor Shivers, of the Warren County, is a republican-democrat. Or, rather, he is a Jeffersonian democrat; and is going around hunting for a federalist to devour.

Cousin Willie Harris, of Worth county, is of the opinion that dogs are more dangerous to sheep than dogs. Cousin William should not attempt to drown down the cradle against the bridle cur in this style.

The Macon Telegraph says of the ad-dress delivered by Americans to Mr. F. H. Richardson, that it was very fine throughout, and had been highly complimented as a finished production, in every way worthy of its great author.

Mr. Edward Parry, of Laurens county, was a reward of five hundred dollars for the arrest of the two Mrs. Perrys who were recently released from the Dublin jail by a midnight mob, and the Post is decidedly of the opinion that Governor Colquitt should take some action in the matter.

The following from the Hawkinsville Dispatch we most heartily endorse: Dr. C. E. Hassell, of the Thomasville Enterprise, is an applicant for the position of inspector of fertilizers for the second district of Georgia. The late incumbent was Captain E. T. Davis, of Thomasville, who died recently. Mr. Hassell has many friends in this section who would be glad to hear of his appointment, and we hope he may receive it. He is one of the most worthy and any favor conferred upon him would be appreciated by the fraternity.

LaGrange Reporter. The more we see of the operations of the internal revenue law the more we are convinced that it is a gigantic machine of oppression, and that it ought to be abolished. If we rightly understand Dr. Felton's views in this regard, we may well apply them to the administration of this important system of laws. Let it be known as far as possible at any rate, so amended as to prevent the oppressions now so common.

Henry Weekly. We have no doubt in our minds that the law will be fully applied to every tax or affliction. Investigate this whole matter thoroughly. It should be settled to the bottom. The tax-payers of Georgia must be educated to settle these. Those who have swindled us have swindled us all.

Those whom we most heartily endorse this morning say: "The total amount of bullion in the Bank of England—namely, £35,162,325—is the largest record. At present there is no reason to think this immense sum will not be considerably exceeded."

—Good material is always requisite to great results; we have the best flour, with little shelling; however, and still have poor bread, cake, pastries, etc. We didn't use Dooly's YEAST POWDER. With this last magic element to give order, however, we can get the best results; it is a mathematical certainty.

—For a teacher in the Sunday-school wants something really helpful, let him get The National Sunday-school Teacher. It was in first class, too, and in our lesson course. It showed that she had thoroughly understood her subject, that she possessed a vast amount of information and skill, and was a teacher of the senior class.

—There came an essay, "A Scientific View of the Necessity of Education" by Miss Katie S. Winn of the senior class. This was one of the best essays (so pronounced by critics) ever written by a boy so young as Miss Winn. It showed that she had thoroughly understood her subject, that she possessed a vast amount of information and skill, and was a teacher of the senior class.

—There came a recitation, "Thalassopathy," by Miss Katie S. Winn of the junior class. Miss Winn acquitted herself creditably and will be one of the seniors next term.

—Next came a recitation, "Under Disposition." Mrs. Carrie and Mary Wilson, daughters of B. J. Wilson, of West End, were delighted with this effort, and some of the audience came to the conclusion that these young ladies were in reality a second Henry and Anne.

—There came a recitation, "The National Quarterly and the Little Folks." Both quite非凡 in their way. Chicago, Adams, Blackmer, & Lyon Publishing Co.

John Ryan will offer Bargains in day.

Saturday, June 28th, 8:34. Important.

THE COMMENCEMENTS.

GARDEN INSTITUTE—Shorter College, etc.

GORDON INSTITUTE.

BARNESVILLE, June 26.—The Methodists are holding a district meeting at this place, and the commencement exercises of Gordon Institute are in full blast also. The save amount of chickens are being destroyed as usual at such meetings. And lemonade will, or will not, be a "delight." If it is, it will be a "treat." You step right up bravely before the crowd and eat it. But if you wish it with a "strik," you will, of course, like all dumb men do, wish to have it with a "loud noise."

There came a laudable address by the Senior class. This essay was entitled, "All the World's a Stage and all the Men and Women Merely Players," by Miss Mary M. Cole, of the senior class.

It was stored with information; that she was a member of the senior class in reality;

and was well up in the entire audience.

Miss Cole is a lady of fine ability.

There came the baccalaureate address by the Senior class. This was forwarded to Miss Cole, and she gave it to Mr. and Miss Katie Winn.

It was short, earnest and concise, and was listened to with the profoundest interest.

The school, then, with the exception of the Senior class, this evening, was
